

MASTER OF ARTS IN SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is the scientific study of social relationships and individual and collective human action insofar as these are influenced by social forces. It consists of a body of related generalizations about human behavior and society guided by concepts and theories arrived at through scientific investigation.

The Master of Arts in Sociology offers training in three (3) areas of concentration leading to various lines or professional work. Specifically, the program offers courses leading to a Masteral degree in Industrial and Urban Sociology, Population Studies, and Social Problems.

To be considered proficient in the field of Sociology, the student must finish a total of 36 Masteral units which includes 6 units of thesis writing. The 36 units are distributed as follows: 15 units of courses related to Research Methodology, and 3 units of Design and Analysis and Statistics course. Fifteen units (15) are to be taken from other areas of concentration, and 6 units of thesis writing.

Objectives

1. To make MSU-

Second Year, Second Semester

Course No.	Course Title	Units	Hrs./Wk.			Prerequisite(s)
			Lec	Lab	Total
Socio 299	Masteral Thesis	6				All core courses and other required courses and Written Comprehensive Examination
Total		6

*Required Core Courses

May be taken from Anthropology, Communications, Community Development, Economics, Political Science, Psychology, History, Social Work, and/or on other areas of concentration in Sociology

SUMMARY OF COURSES

	UNITS
I. CORE CURRICULUM	15 units
Socio 270	3 units
Socio 271	3 units
Socio 280	3 units
Socio 281	3 units
Socio 288	3 units
II. AREAS OF CONCENTRATION	15 units
A. Major	12 units
1. Industrial and Urban Sociology (Any four of the following courses) Socio 215, 216, 226, 237, 239, 244, 246, 255, 260, 261, 272
2. Population Studies (Any four of the following courses) Socio 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 274
3. Social Problems (Any four of the following courses) Socio 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 226, 236, 251, 273
B. Cognate	3 units
May be taken from Anthropology, Communications, Community Development, Economics, Political Science, Psychology, History, Social Work, and/or on other areas of concentration in Sociology.

SOCIO 236 RACE AND ETHNIC RELATIONS

This course is addressed to investigating the effects and policy implications of social contracts when

Credit : 3 units
Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 237 URBAN SOCIOLOGY

This course deals with comparative studies of urban communities; nature and consequences of urbanization.

Credit : 3 units
Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 238 RURAL SOCIOLOGY

An analysis of village life and the world view as well as the microscopic view of the dominant social institutions in peasant societies and the changes that impinge on them.

Credit : 3 units
Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 239 INDUSTRIAL SOCIOLOGY

A course that studies on the psychosocial effects of industrialization vis-à-vis man-work, man-man, and man-

SOCIO 251

SMALL GROUP PROCESSES

METHODS

SOCIO 280 RESEARCH METHODS I

An introductory course on the scientific approach in conducting social research, zeroing in on the theoretical aspects of problem definition, hypothesis testing, development of suitable indicators, and the techniques of data collection and data reduction.

Credit : 3 units

Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 281* RESEARCH METHODS II

Research proposal writing and practicum

Credit : 3 units

Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 282 SURVEY METHODOLOGIES AND DESIGN

A course that familiarizes the student to the types of data collection using nonCr t

